"WHAT YOU SAID!"

Your letters and magazine articles have always gladdened Basil Cracknell's heart. Here is a selection of your comments:-

"We were able to see and feel for ourselves something of the enormous contrasts between the "best-off" and the "worst-off" parts of London. Mary Coombs, Sidcup - 1985

"We loved the warmth and friendliness with which we were welcomed at the churches. We were glad we didn't miss it and thanked God for a happy day." H. Neatby, Redhill - 1986

"A worthwhile opportunity to show our interest and concern for those churches which have the difficult task of inner-city ministry." Chris Candy, Ilford - 1987

"The walk was extremely well-planned."
Mary Lamb, Southminster - 1988

"I liked looking at the walkers enjoying themselves."
Hannah Isherwood (then aged 8), Streatham - 1990

"The joy on the faces of Christians, both those we met walking round and those who welcomed us so warmly at their churches." Norma Smith, Wootton, Bedford - 1992

Walkers skirt the lake in Victoria Park during their tour of the Tower Hamlets in 1985

There will be an exhibition of the work of EUTP at DOWNS BAPTIST CHURCH with photographs and materials. Our staff will be there to discuss their work with you. A special print of all the route guides will be on sale.

Evangelical Urban Training Project

Bishop Peter Hall writes:-

Many urban people "can read but don't". They aren't used to church services. What do they make of us with our books and "holy" jargon?

We may be obstacles to their having an experience of Jesus, and we may not even realise it. EUTP has been addressing these issues imaginatively for a quarter of a century. We prefer to work with churches "where they're at". rather than impose standard cure-alls We help churches to think out their own answers rather than rely on ours.

The energy and generosity of our family of walkers means a lot to me in the things to which God calls us.

Your friend in the service of Christ.

Peter Hall

Ten EUTP Walks

By the end of our tenth walk I reckon that EUTP walkers will have clocked up 100,000 miles and raised £130,000 for our work.

I hope that I shall meet in Hackney, walkers on their first experience of these great days.

I should also like to hear the stories and opinions of anyone who has completed, five or more walks.

Has any one completed all ten walks so far?

"HACKNEY & THE TWO CANALS"

A decade of Christian urban walking

What better place than Hackney is there for our tenth year of getting to know inner London? It is "Britain's most deprived borough!" It also has fine parks, lovely shopping centres, and areas of pleasant, tree-lined streets. It is home to people of many races and religions.

The 1993 walk takes you through all the variety that is Hackney. You will visit eight churches of different denominations who will share their ministry stories. On EUTP walks over 1,300 people meet, share, pray and laugh together, celebrating their Christian faith and unity.

I look forward, very much, to seeing you in Hackney.
Basil Cracknell

One face of Hackney: Early nineteenth century frontages, now derelict, unloved and fly-posted.

Another Hackney: Large Victorian mansions; sublet; many tenures and ownerships. Well-off and abjectly poor live very close to one another.
