

EVANGELICAL URBAN TRAINING PROJECT

- is non-denominational and specialises in helping Christians relate the Gospel to people of average or below average literacy - people who "can read but don't". Our resources are an energetic National Council and a widening network of volunteers. By the time the 1988 Walk takes place our Project Officer Jim Hart will have been joined by a second full-time worker - Bill Bullin. Bill and his wife Sheila have pioneered a Christian community work in a difficult part of Edinburgh.

Our work load is growing. Autumn 1987 has seen Jim in Bible Colleges and with churches in Grimsby, Slough, Guildford, London, St. Helens, Merseyside and Blackburn. The project is increasingly recognised as making a special contribution to the field of adult Christian education. We are concerned to help Christians share their faith with people outside the churches. Your support of the London Walk makes this work possible.

Four London Bridges Walk

some impressions -

"A worthwhile opportunity to show our interest and concern for those churches which have the difficult task of inner-city ministry."
Chris Candy, Ashurst Drive Baptist Church, Ilford

"This walk was to show us the contrast between rich and poor, black and white, and how the churches are adapting to these conditions".
Elizabeth Oke, St. John's Church, Mortimer, Reading

"We have seen how some of our fellow Christians live and work in that part of London".
Grace Pippard, United Free Church, Pinner

"The Holy Spirit has been quietly stirring the hearts of many people - Praise the Lord!"
Barbara Funnell, St. Luke's, Bricklet Wood, St. Albans

GOD AT WORK IN THE CITY

Dear Vicar, Pastor or Church Leader, EUTP annual walks have become a looked-forward to event in the calendars of over 100 churches.

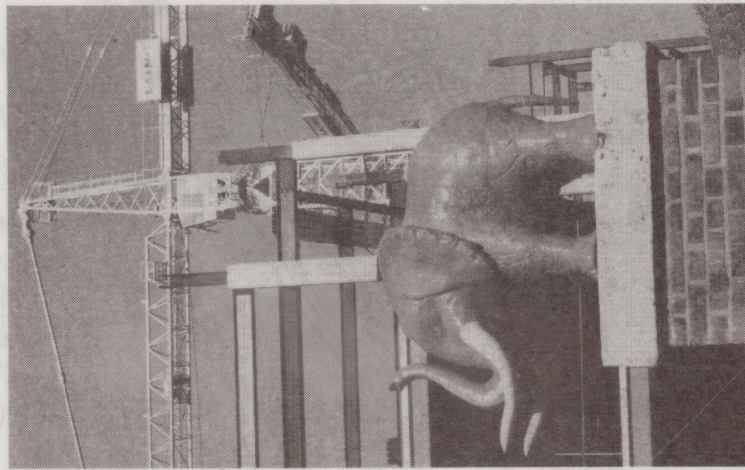

They help finance the important training work of the project. They also enable Christians from better-off parts of London and the Home Counties to see the challenge for themselves and to celebrate all that their fellow-Christians are doing.

Our 1988 walk returns to the 1984 terrain, though with a different route and checkpoints - but what a transformation on the Isle of Dogs! All around this gigantic building yard lie some of the poorest, most deprived communities in Britain.

The 1988 walk route is interesting and varied. We visit six vibrant ministries of different denominations; white and black. I hope to see you,

Basil Cracknell

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST BUILDING SITE!

Come and experience for yourself the excitement of the world's biggest building site - £3 billions of development with a new railway. Who is it all for? Mostly it is for the rich and the very rich. Working class people aren't benefitting and are being priced out of their own communities. "The East-End is an endangered species", said 'Roof' magazine recently. Christians must face these great issues. A special fact sheet will be issued at the walk.
